amid the crisis of authority in our modern and postmodern era christians need to be able to point to god s revelation in the natural world in addition to defending god s unique revelation in the bible and in the person of jesus christ classical apologetics takes a two step approach to commending the christian picture of reality first arguments for the existence of god such as those of natural theology are employed to create common ground with people outside the household of the christian faith and to provide intellectual support for christians second classical apologetics defends key items of christian revelation including the reliability of the bible the identity of the historical jesus and the resurrection of jesus christ from the dead in the knowledge of god in the world and the word workbook designed to be used alongside the knowledge of god in the world and the word textbook by authors douglas groothuis and andrew i shepardson students are guided through learning exercises that introduce them to classical apologetics and to innovative defenses of natural theology excerpt from an introduction to the study of christian apologetics the object of this series is to provide for the clergy and laity of the church as statement in convenient form of its doctrine discipline and worship as well as to meet the often expressed desire on the part of examining chaplains for textbooks which they could recommend to candidates for holy orders to satisfy on the one hand the demand of general readers among the clergy and laity the books have been provided with numerous references to larger works making them introductory in their nature and on the other hand to make them valuable for use in canonical examinations they have been arranged according to the canons of the church which deal with that matter it is the earnest hope of the collaborators in this series that the impartial scholarship and unbiased attitude adopted throughout will commend themselves to churchmen of all types and that the books will therefore be accorded a general reception and adopted as far as possible as a norm for canonical examinations the need of such a norm is well known to all and finally a word to examining chaplains about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works in early christian apologetics d h williams offers a first comprehensive presentation of christian apologetic literature from the second to the fifth century ce williams argues that most apologies were not directed at a pagan readership in most cases ancient apologetics had a double object to instruct the christian and persuade weak christians or non christians who were sympathetic to christian claims taken cumulatively he finds apologetic literature was integral to the formation of the christian identity in the roman world laying the foundation a handbook of catholic apologetics and fundamental theology is a classic text by the late fr joseph clifford fenton a highly respected author professor and theologian of the twentieth century this book appeared in 1942 under the rather unimposing title we stand with christ an essay in catholic apologetics it should have become a classic it is i believe the greatest work of apologetics produced in a time of superstar apologists such as f j sheed ronald knox and fulton sheen it represents the high point of apologetics as well as a gold standard for subsequent works of fundamental theology from the foreword by scott hahn franciscan university of steubenville
